

As of December 2008, Korean Air is operating flights to 116 cities in 39 countries worldwide. The city of Seoul is a main hub for the whole network of Korean Air, and it covers the most of major cities in North America and Europe regions. We are considered as one of the largest network carrier in Asia region.