What is the activities budget used for and where does the income come from?

Setting annual members’ dues

Notes:

Making payments on behalf of the club

Notes:
Maintaining club financial records

Notes:

Some important financial policies to follow:

- The board of directors should formally approve all club bank accounts
- The treasurer and one other officer should sign all checks
- Discuss bonding. Each club will have its own tradition.
- All financial records should be audited annually
- The treasurer pays out all monies only on the authority of the board. There is no exception. However, the board may annually pre-authorize paying expenses for fixed billings.
- The club may not create any indebtedness beyond the current income of the club. Clubs should not commit to donations beyond the current fiscal year.
- Generally, a continuously large bank balance does not necessarily mean a successful club

Maintain a paper trail.

- This is an important element of the treasurer's responsibilities. All monies from whatever source must be deposited, as received, in the board-approved bank.
- Payment for any purpose should not be made from cash received by the club, but by check drawn on one of the club’s bank accounts. This creates the proper paper trail of financial transactions.
- Record retention is a critical responsibility of the treasurer. Receipts for all checks written should be maintained. These receipts should be retained in a file that is open to the audit committee and club members.
- Budgets and financial reports should be retained in a permanent file for club history
The club should retain all financial records for a period of 7 years, or for the time required by the country in which the club resides, for tax purposes. These records include:
  - Bank statements and cancelled checks
  - Invoices and receipts
  - Financial reports
  - Tax returns and other governmental filings

What should be included in the financial report?

Filing club taxes
